Number of Students Leaving for Services Begins to 'Level Off'

Number of male students leaving Southern Illinois university for the armed services (either by request or otherwise) has "leveled off" to about one or two per day now, according to figures obtained from the Dean of Men's office.

A total of 21 students withdrew from SIU between Jan. 17 and Feb. 1. A total of 158 students have withdrawn from school this term to enter the armed services. A total of 212 students have left since September.

Early in January most of the students dropped out were joining the Air Force, but most of those dropping out since Jan. 17 have joined the Navy.

Those dropping out since Jan. 17 included the following:

NAVY—James Parker, Texico; William D. Wheeler, Norris City; Don M. Aiken, Benton; Larry Bandy, Benton; Berl Williams, Du Quoin; Charles Ireland, Mulberry Grove; Fred Mueller, Carbondale; Warren D. Collins, Murphysboro; T. A. Baker, Murphysboro; Raymond E. Crawshaw, Murphysboro; and Charles Dougherty, Benton.

Student Council Begins Plans for Social Senate

Beginning plans to organize the Social Senate, a student representative group which is to co-ordinate all student social activities here at Southern, have been made by the Student Council.

The Council has sent out letters to the following organizations asking for two representatives from each to serve on the Social Senate: ISA, Girls' House Council, Interfraternity Council, Pan-Hellenic Council, the Alpha Phi Omega, and the Girls' Rally.

AS STATED in the letters that were sent out, the representatives should be sophomores or juniors so that they may be accustomed to school activities and so that they may be in school next year to train new members.

Besides requesting members from the above mentioned organizations, the Council decided to ask Bill Davis to represent otherwise unaffiliated students on the Senate because of his past experience on the Weekend Social Committee.

As soon as answers from the letters are received, the Student Council will decide on organizational procedures. In their meeting Tuesday, the Council appointed Bob Coover and Wileta Smith, sophomore representatives on the Council, to represent the Council on the Social Senate committee.

ALSO IN THE meeting Tuesday two tentative dates for the Spring Festival were set. The dates set were for the weekend of April 27 and 28, and the weekend of May 11 and 12.

It was decided that nominations for Spring Festival chairman would be held Tuesday, Feb. 13, and that elections would be held the following week on Tuesday, Feb. 20.

SIU Music Students To Be Presented in Recital Here Monday

Students of Southern's music department will be presented in a recital in the Little Theatre Monday at 8 p. m. Dr. Maurits Kesar, department chairman, announced this week.

The complete list of participants was not available, but representatives of practically all different fields of music will appear on the program.

A partial list of those who will perform includes Margaret Nauer, Don Francois, Charles Dickerman, Elizabeth Leavy, Everett Boyd, Wilda Williams, Kenneth Mills, Alma Dean Smith, Jack Ridley, Leah Bradley, and a horn quartet composed of Roger Hughes, Richard Barton, Betty Gibbons, and Mary Snow.

The recital is open to the public and no admission will be charged.

Handicraft Group Is Organized To Increase Area Output, Interest

Various forms of handicraft produced in Southern Illinois will get new encouragement and development through a recently-formed, non-profit organization called Southern Illinois Handicrafters, Inc.

"This handicraft movement will be based in great measure on the remnants or residue of the old crafts of the pioneer such as basket-making, pottery, spinning and weaving, iron and leather work, and quilting," states John W. Allen, museum curator at SIU and newly-elected president of the group.

The organization will encourage greater production of this material and attempt to bring in new followers of handicraft work as either a hobby or avocation. Pieces of work meeting quality standards will be stamped with the name of the organization and marketed. Officials believe such a move will be of value, both to the individual and in the development of the area.

FIRST MEETING was held at the university cafeteria at which time the group were guests of the College of Education. After deciding on a name, a committee was appointed to draw up a constitution and by-laws. Other officers elected were Eugene Comte, vice president, and Mrs. Charles Cleland, secretary-treasurer, both of Murphysboro.

The group will announce the time and place of their next meeting, open to all interested persons.

VIRGINIA MILLER NAMED TO MAGAZINE BOARD

Virginia Miller, Egyptian managing editor, has been appointed by Mademoiselle magazine to represent Southern on the magazine's College board. She is one of 700 appointees who competed this year with students from colleges all over the country for positions on the board, according to Mademoiselle.

As a College board member, she will report to Mademoiselle on campus news, fads and fashions during the college year. She will also complete three magazine assignments in a competition for one of twenty guest editorships, to be awarded by the magazine next June.

The guest editors, who are chosen from the College Board on the basis of the year's three assignments, will be brought to New York City for four weeks in June

Penney Address, 57 Sessions Slated For Career Meet

Southern's first Career Conference will get under way at 9 a. m. Wednesday, Feb. 7, with the keynote address by J. C. Penney. This session will be a Student Council all-school assembly, and all classes will be dismissed.

For the other 57 Conference sessions, classes will not be generally dismissed, but instructors may excuse students from class to attend sessions. The student must then present an attendance card at the next class session.

ATTENDANCE CARDS will be given students at each Conference session attended, and will show the student's name, date, time, and name of the session attended, and will be signed by the secretary of the discussion group.

Purpose of the Career Conference is to offer advice and counseling to students concerning the professions and vocations they plan to enter. Outstanding leaders in the fields of education, industry, management, and labor will participate on the program, and a total of 55 speakers are scheduled to appear during the two days of the conference.

PENNEY, FOUNDER of the J. C. Penney Co. which consists of more than 1,600 retail stores located in every state, will also speak to Murphysboro and Carbondale Rotary groups, and attend several banquets in his honor in both towns.

Next Wednesday night he will be guest at a banquet given by Dr. D. W. Morris. He will also preside at a personnel meeting of the Penney store in Murphysboro Feb. 8.

A feature of the Career Conference will be a panel discussion and skit on "Pointers on Getting a Job," given in the Little Theatre, Thursday, Feb. 8, at 8 a. m. Coordinator for the discussion will be Royce Bryant, director of the SIU placement service.

60 SIU AG CLUB MEMBERS, GUESTS ATTEND BANQUET

Approximately 60 AG Club members and guests attended the annual Agricultural club banquet held at the First Methodist church Tuesday evening, Jan. 30.

After the banquet, preliminary remarks were made by Dr. W. E. Keeper, chairman of the agriculture department; Dean Henry J. Rehn, Dean of the College of Vocations and Professions, and Professor R. E. Muckleroy, (Emeritus). Main speaker of the evening, Mr. R. L. Curtis, district conservationist from Benton, spoke on conservation in relation to agriculture, industry, recreation, and wild life management in Southern Illinois.

to help write and edit Mademoiselle's 1951 August college issue. They will be paid round-trip transportation plus a regular salary for their work.

Our Opinions...

Something New—and Worthwhile

THE EGYPTIAN today is using considerable space in publishing the complete schedule of Career Conference to be held here next Wednesday and Thursday.

It is rarely that we devote so much space to a campus event, but we feel that this event is not only important but very worthwhile.

We hope that students will clip the schedule and will make an earnest attempt to attend the sessions which deal with subjects interesting to them.

Probably no one will want to attend more than six or seven of the conferences; many will want to attend only two or three. However, the scope is so large that every student should attend at least one.

The Lions Roar

Editors of Esquire, men's "humor" magazine, probably will get quite a chuckle when they receive a resolution from the Herrin Lions club condemning further magazine articles about former gang warfare and Ku Klux Klan days in Southern Illinois.

Instead of trying to abide by the resolution, the magazine probably will request several more articles similar to the one they ran in the February issue.

IN THE ARTICLE, the author, Harry B. Wilson, retells the assorted deeds of the Sheltons and Birgers. Of course, the editors of Esquire evidently didn't think too well of the article as they all but hid it deep in the magazine far behind the cartoons, the thinly clad beauties, and such "important" articles as "Man the Chef."

Herrin Lions are sending copies of their resolution to magazines and other newspapers asking them to refrain from recounting the "old days," which brought a bad reputation to this area. (We haven't received a copy as yet.)

WE AGREE with the Herrin Lions that the numerous stories aren't good publicity for the area, BUT we sincerely doubt the wisdom of making a resolution. Their pressure group action is bound to end in failure.

The best way to combat such articles is simply by having an area of a much higher caliber than it was 20-30 years ago.

Magazines and newspapers will stop publishing articles on Sheltons and Birgers just like all ladies' clubs will halt all gossip.

What's the Score?

Within a period of about 30 minutes Monday night the Egyptian received calls from St. Louis, New York City, and Hartford, Conn., wanting to know the outcome of the Southern-Evansville college basketball game.

The last call, the one from Hartford, Conn., was too much. We asked the caller why he wanted to know the score. His reason: "I'm a basketball patron and interested in the score."

Could it be that the Southern-Evansville college game was on a basketball parlay card—or does Southern have unknown admirers in New York and Hartford, Conn.?

One Sentence Editorial: If students would cooperate by not discarding old papers and wrappers on the floor, then the University Canteen probably could be kept much cleaner.

PRESIDENT DELYTE W. MORRIS and Miss Emma Bowyer, professor emeritus and former chairman of the English department, watch as Rudy Weber, electrician, disconnects the university master clock. The clock has been beginning and dismissing classes for so long that no one remembers exactly when it was first installed.

Court Overrules Landowners Motion In SIU Land Suit

Southern's move to acquire four tracts of land through condemnation annexation survived its first court test last week in the Jackson county court, Murphysboro, when County Judge C. E. Wright overruled a motion to dismiss the university petition.

The ruling leaves SIU in position to pursue its petition for annexation of four tracts of land deemed necessary for a large expansion program, including construction of walks and passageways to join the new training school with the present campus, and sites for new library and life science buildings.

LANDOWNERS, who had filed a petition to dismiss the university's petition, based their move on the premise that Southern has a large amount of unoccupied land that could be used for expansion purposes just as well as their land.

One of the property owners has reached an agreement with the university for purchase of his property and has been dropped as a defendant in the suit.

Further action in the case will be listed in the county court in the near future.

Stitch in Time

'Grandfather Clock' Replaced by New One

Southern's master clock, so antiquated that it was causing class bells to ring without the slightest regard for schedules, has been relegated to retirement.

Originally mechanical and later converted to electric power, the old "grandfather" master clock is now being replaced by a modern IBM timepiece. The change ends a reign of absolute power that has lasted so long that no one at the University can remember when it actually began. It is known, however, that it ruled, with two iron hands, the destiny of the major portion of the 40,000 SIU alumni.

THIS YEAR, the administration decided that the clock would be of more value in the University museum than the President's office. The new clock system will be put into operation in the next few days.

Miss Emma Bowyer, professor emeritus and former chairman of the English department, recalls that the clock first made it possible for classes to be started and dismissed at the same time. Previously classes had been regulated by the individual professors who followed their own timepieces.

The clock controlled all other clocks on the campus by a pneumatic process. A small bellows attached to the master clock forced air through a series of pipes leading to all buildings.

Lake Ridgeway was named after Thomas Ridgway, first president of the state teachers board.

Motto of Southern's home, economic club is "My duty is my pleasure."

SIU Student Turns Time Into Money

James Turns, a junior at Southern, is using his previous education as a way to make money by repairing watches in his spare time and on week ends.

Jim, a graduate of the Bulova watch school in Greenville, S. C., completed a regular two year course in watch repairing in 16 months, graduating in 1948. Regular hours for the school were five hours a day, five days a week. He often went as much as 10 hours a day for credit.

He said that he attended school for six months before he even got to see a watch. Students start by doing easy jobs and slowly progress upward until they get in the final stages of watch repairing.

AFTER GRADUATION Jim was employed by one of the leading jewelry stores in the South. He quit this job to come to Southern as a student.

His watch business at Southern is mostly for his friends, and their friends. He said that lately he has had quite a bit of work. This was especially true during the Christmas vacation. He does all of his actual repair work in his home in West Frankfort where he has all of his tools and work bench.

Speaking of rates charged, Jim said they were a "little lower than the highest and a little higher than the lowest." This is true when he gets paid.

JIM HAS a complaint against both the men and women as to certain types of jobs of repairing. His complaint against his women customers is that they will bring in a broken piece of costume jewelry, not too expensive when purchased, and they want it repaired very cheaply. He said that sometimes the repairing would cost more than the piece of jewelry had originally.

Men will bring in a watch that needs repairing. When he opens the watch he can see that they have been trying to fix it with a nail-file or tooth pick. If he asks if they have been trying to fix it themselves, they always reply no.

Jim, who was in the Merchant Marine during the last war, worked in the ship's engine room. He said there is quite a bit of difference in working with the large tools used in the engine room and those small and fine tools used in watch repairing.

THE HIGHEST CALIBER

The Colt .45 and the Winchester .73 will long be remembered as the guns that helped win the West, but another red-hot pistol of slightly different form was just as potent in Southern's victory over Wheaton Wednesday night. Bill Garrett, sophomore flash from Fairfield, paved the way for the Maroons' victory as he blazed away at the target with terrific caliber.

Garrett's shooting would have made even Buffalo Bill and Wild Bill Hickock sit up and take notice.

In the first half of the contest against Wheaton, Garrett hit 10 perfect bulls-eyes in 15 attempts. And-most of "Wild Bill's" shot attempts were from 30 or 40 feet out. This, needless to say, is great shooting in any league, and you just had to be there to believe it. We've never seen shooting like that anywhere, not even in the pro ranks, and we'd venture to say that's about the best exhibition which has taken place since the Men's gym was built.

After the smoke of the first half had cleared, Garrett cooled off, and with 21 points in the first half, ended up with 23 for the night. But his spectacular display of long shot artistry in the first half against Wheaton college will go down in our record books as the best basketball shooting we've ever seen.

AND-THEN THERE'S TOM

GARRETT not only proved his great value to the team Wednesday night, he also aided the prestige of good ol' Tom Millikin. For even the terrific shooting of the Fairfield ace during the first half was not enough to outpoint Big T for high scoring honors. Millikin ended up with 26 points for the evening, though he didn't seem to be any hotter than usual. All of which goes to prove that it takes an awful lot of basketball ability to outshine Mr. Millikin. We're not taking anything away from Garrett—in our minds, his first half shooting stole the show. We just had a sensational double-feature Wednesday night. The fans who were there can say they really saw something.

The only further comment we have to make on the contest is, "Why couldn't we have hit like that against Evansville?" After seeing the performances of Garrett and Millikin, the Purple Aces would really have been discolored.

Maroons, Minus Davis Meet Normal Saturday

Following their red-hot victory over Wheaton Wednesday night, the Southern Maroons will journey to Normal this Saturday to meet the Redbirds' basketball performers, who are currently fifth in conference standings. This is the first meeting of the two schools this year, and the Maroons must bring home the bacon if they are to remain in a first-place conference tie.

NORMAL HAS a rather mediocre team as the record book goes, but a strong one as far as actual competition is concerned. Like all the schools of the conference, the Redbirds are capable of beating any team in the league on a good night. Against Eastern last week, Normal trailed by only four points after 12 minutes of play had elapsed, and had their defense not faltered, they could have caught the prowling Panthers.

POSSESSING one of the tallest teams in the loop along with Western, Normal has won but three loop tilts this year. But even in losing, the Redbirds have looked powerful in spots and are not to be underestimated, especially on their home court.

THE MAROONS will be playing without the services of Dave Davis, starting forward, who has apparently dropped out of school. The unofficial word has it that Davis has ceased to attend classes, and will quit school soon. This will undoubtedly be a telling blow to the Maroons, as Davis was a stalwart defensive man, and a good scorer.

The University museum has more than 12,500 items in the field of natural sciences alone.

All women graduates of Southern are eligible for membership in the American Association of University Women (AAUW). Southern granted 609 degrees in 1949.

Maroon Grapplers To Oppose Great Lakes Tomorrow

The Blue Jackets from Great Lakes Naval Training Center will invade the Men's gym Saturday night to meet Southern's matmen in their third meet of the season.

The Maroon men are still looking for their first victory. However, if the team continues at the same rate of improvement, this quest for victory may be fulfilled. There is no doubt that the inexperienced crew has come a long way since their loss to Normal to open the 1951 season. Their fine showing against a strong Arkansas team last Friday further exemplified that there is no substitute for hard work and diligent practice.

The tentative lineup for Southern is:

- 123-pound class—Russ Holbrook
- 130—Charlie Cuttrell
- 137—Jack Stoudt
- 147—Art Hargis
- 157—Don Spratt
- 167—Nick Veremis
- 177—Phil Bruno
- Hvywt.—Leon Mayer

Several scheduled challenge bouts may cause a change in competitors. Andy Bitta, 167-pounder, who suffered a shoulder separation earlier in the year, is still sidelined because of the injury.

Arkansas State Wins All But Three Bouts

The Maroon matmen lost their second meet of the 1951 season last Friday night when they were defeated by Arkansas State 19-9. However, the Southern wrestlers looked their best thus far in losing to a team which made a strong showing against Cornell, one of the best wrestling schools in the country.

All of the bouts went the full distance except two. Jack Stoudt remained undefeated by outpointing his opponent, 10-8. Phil Bruno and Don Spratt also won their matches by outscoring their opponents. The results by weight classes are:

- 123—Sullins (Ark.) beat Russ Holbrook, 5-2
- 130—Jake Durham (Ark.) pinned Charlie Cuttrell in 2 min. of the second period.
- 137—Jack Stoudt (SIU) beat Austin, 10-8.
- 147—Carmondy (Ark.) outpointed Art Hargis, 10-5.
- 157—Don Spratt (SIU) beat Jackson, 7-5.
- 167—Taylor (Ark.) beat Nick Veremis, 12-8.
- 177—Phil Bruno (SIU) outpointed Vogle by a 6-2 score. Bruno is unbeaten with a record of one win and one tie.

Hvywt.—Downey (Ark.) pinned Leon Mayer in 2 minutes and 37 seconds of the first period.

This Saturday, Feb. 3, Southern's matmen will meet the Blue Jackets of Great Lakes, who replace Eastern on the schedule.

Garrett, Millikin Pace Cagers To Wheaton Win

By Jim Dowell

Coach Lynn Holder's Southern Illinois-University Maroons played one of their best offensive games of the season Wednesday night by defeating Wheaton College 76-68 in the Men's gym. The Maroons jumped ahead in the first part of the game and maintained their lead at the half, 47-32. Bill Garrett led the Holdermen in the first half as he hit 10 of 15 shots for an average of .667. Most of Garrett's two pointers were his favorite one-hand shot.

The Holdermen hit near .388 the first half of the ball game. The Maroons were at their best. Their passes were connecting; their shots were accurate; and their plays were working beautifully.

Tom Millikin led the Maroon scoring attack with eleven field goals and four free tosses for a total of 26 points. Bill Garrett was the second high scorer as he swished the net with ten field goals and three free buckets for a total of 23 points.

Dick Messner was the top tallier for the losers with eight field goals and two free tosses for a total of 18 points. Marvin Johnson and Dick Gross split second high honors with 15 points apiece.

Maroon supporters missed the comical antics of Dave Davis Wednesday night. On the other hand the fans were rather surprised to see Jerry Holloper. Holloper quit college a few weeks ago to join the Air Force, but returned to college to finish his career. Holloper relieved Wichmann in the first half when the latter received an eye injury on a drive-in shot. Wichmann returned to the game later in the evening. The big curly head blonde from New Madrid, Mo., scored two points.

DICK MESSNER, Wheaton fleetfoot, hit most of his shots on fast-breaking drive-ins. Messner would fake his man out of position, then before the Southern defender could resume balance Messner had scored two points. Stan Horst did the best job of guarding the Wheaton man.

On the offensive view of the game, it was all Bill Garrett the first half, and all Tom Millikin the second half. Millikin connected with 13 of his 26 points in the final finale. He hit five of seven field goals in the last half. Bill Garrett did his powerful scoring in the first half. Garrett couldn't hit a single field goal in the last period.

Bob Johnson looked much better than usual. Johnson tallied 10 points with five field goals. The ex-Pineville star looked much better on defense than offense, however.

Ernie Bozarth played his usual scrapping game. Bozarth tallied nine points for the Holdermen, but like Johnson, Bozarth is a defender rather than an offensive.

The fans were somewhat disappointed in the Holdermen in the final four minutes of the game. Instead of going on a scoring rampage like they usually do, they stalled the ball. Had they kept up with their usual style of ball, they would have probably won by 18 points instead of 8.

The Maroons hit 32 field goals in 93 shots for an average of .355. The Wheaton men hit .329 from the court sinking 29 of 88 goals.

The losers outshot the winners at the free throw lane. Wheaton sank ten of 17 shots for a .588 average, while the Holdermen could hit only 12 of 23 shots for a cool .522.

The next Southern home game will be with Northern Illinois Feb. 10.

The Southern "B" squad defeated the DuQuoin Owls, 64-52, in the preliminary
